Vitamin Targets and Interpretation

- Calories: 1,700-1,900 kcal/day - Personalized planning range.
- Protein: 110-130 g/day - All days remain inside requested range.
- Fiber: ≥38 g/day - All days meet target.
- Calcium: 1,000 mg/day - All days are approximately at or above target.
- Iron: 8 mg/day - Adult male RDA.
- Magnesium: 420 mg/day - Adult male RDA.
- Potassium: 3,400 mg/day - Adult male AI used in this plan.
- Vitamin A total: 900 µg RAE/day - Adult male RDA; includes provitamin A from plant foods.
- Preformed vitamin A: UL 3,000 µg RAE/day - Safety limit applies to preformed vitamin A; plant carotenoids are treated separately.
- Vitamin C: 90 mg/day - Adult male RDA.
- Vitamin D: 15 µg/day - Food alone remains below target on most days; clinician-guided supplementation/follow-up remains appropriate.
- Vitamin E: 15 mg/day - Adult RDA. Cooking-oil vitamin E is excluded because the specific oil was not defined, so totals are conservative.
- Vitamin K: 120 µg/day - Adult male AI. Cooking-oil vitamin K is excluded because the specific oil was not defined.
- Vitamin B1 (thiamin): 1.2 mg/day - Adult male RDA.
- Vitamin B2 (riboflavin): 1.3 mg/day - Adult male RDA.
- Vitamin B3 (niacin): 16 mg NE/day - Adult male RDA; food-composition estimate.

Vitamin B5 (pantothenic acid): 5 mg/day - Adult AI.

Vitamin B6: 1.3 mg/day - Adult RDA for ages 19–50.

Vitamin B7 (biotin): 30 µg/day - Adult AI. This is the lowest-confidence vitamin estimate because generic food databases often have incomplete biotin values.

Vitamin B9 (folate): 400 µg DFE/day - Adult RDA.

Vitamin B12: 2.4 µg/day - Adult RDA.

Omega-3: ALA AI 1.6 g/day planning guide - Planning figure; not an exact EPA/DHA assessment.

Clinical note: Not treatment - Food-composition values are planning estimates and do not replace clinician-directed treatment or laboratory follow-up.

FDA/EPA fish advice: <https://www.fda.gov/food/consumers/advice-about-eating-fish>

Tilapia and perch (freshwater/ocean) are listed as Best Choices for mercury.

Cod liver: User-provided ICAN label

20 g once weekly; vitamin A/D scaled from label. Not increased because of concentrated preformed vitamin A.

Method: Planning calculation

Generic per-100-g values were multiplied by listed edible weights. Grains/legumes are dry; meats/fish raw edible weight; produce pre-cooking. Values are rounded and not laboratory-precise.

Sat-fat / vitamin-A audit: Generic USDA-style food-composition planning values + ICAN label

Saturated fat is estimated using generic foods and generic cooking oil; preformed vitamin A tracks retinol-type sources relevant to the 3,000 µg RAE UL, not plant carotenoids.

Omega-3 fix: This revision

Added chia 5 g to Day 2 breakfast and ground flaxseed 5 g to Day 5 breakfast; fish remains 160 g each and ragi frequency is unchanged.

Important limitation: USDA generic foods are not the exact brands you buy.

For label-specific precision, substitute package labels or exact FoodData Central IDs.

Complete vitamin panel: Generic USDA-style food-composition planning values

Added Vitamin A total, C, E, K, B1, B2, B3, B5, B6 and estimated B7 to Daily Nutrition. Existing D, B9 and B12 columns were retained and renamed clearly.

Vitamin E/K from oil: Not included

The meal plan says only 'cooking oil' without specifying oil type; vitamin E and K contributions from oil vary substantially, so they are conservatively excluded.

Biotin (B7) limitation: Estimated

Biotin values are less consistently reported in generic food-composition databases. B7 is included as an estimate and should not be treated as laboratory-precise.
